JUNIOR U. F. A. FOR DISTRICT ORGANIZED FRIDAY

Jack Frost holds no terrors for the Junior U.F.A. With a thermometer registering 15 below zero, seventeen of the young folks met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Umbreit on Friday, December 4th, and organized a Junior U.F.A.

Under the supervision of Mrs. A. N. McLeay and Mrs. Oliver, the meeting opened with community singing. Mrs. McLeay acted as secretary while Mrs. Oliver was in the chair. The chairman gave an outline of the constitution and by-laws and the work to be studied, which is to train for citizenship, leadership, educational, economic, and social. Miss Ruth Umbré gave a brief outline of the Junior Conference, which she attended last summer in Edmonton.

In a few well chosen words Mr. Umbré explained the value of the organization.

At the close of the business meeting games and fortune telling were indulged in, and a special speech was given by a dwarf, who was visiting in the vicinity. A dainty lunch was served by the committee in charge, after which a vote of thanks was extended by the Juniors to the ladies for the co-operation and showed their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Umbreit by singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. McLeay on January 9th at 8 o'clock. All young folks are cordially invited to attend.

BOTANICAL NOTES FOR DECEMBER

By E. W. Hart, Central Experiment Station, Ottawa

With the last month of the year comes Christmas, and with it the festive season.

"That best portion of good man's life, his little, nameless, unremembered act of kindness and of love."

Down through the ages this spirit of Yuletide has always been identified with adornment of the home, church or other places of assembly and, comparatively recently, greeting cards. The ever popular Christmas tree, holly, mistletoe, Christmas green or Club mosses, with other evergreen and the flaming poinsettia, enter into the present day decorative schemes perhaps more than any other plants while the "unremembered acts of kindness and of love" are most fully expressed by gifts of rose emblems and holly-leaf-ivy.

The use of the Christmas tree would seem to be traceable to last century B.C., when it was not improbably first imported into Germany by the legion of Nero Claudius in 48 A.D. and was used for an ancient rural festival of the Saturnalia. Very many centuries later it was introduced from Germany into England, thence to Canada where, as a rule, the larger trees are balsams, and for the smaller, black spruce, sometimes white, and occasionally Norway spruce are used.

The part which holly plays, both ecclesiastical and secular, in Yuletide decoration is also of ancient origin. Most of that used in Canada is said to grow in British Columbia, as unfortunately, that species used and known as English holly, is not hardy in other provinces. There is, however, the winter-berry or black alder, a near relation, and exceedingly handsome shrub, with bright scarlet berries and spiny leaves, which grows in other provinces, but not being evergreen, it is not adaptable to Christmas decoration.

Mistletoe, a parasitic plant, has been always under the ban of its old association with heathenism, so that amidst the other plants that decorate the church at this great festival, it finds no place. This ancient custom, pagan worship might well never be forgotten it, but even the chaste salad the Pax Tacum, (Peace be with thee) which has since grown up in, perhaps, considered detrimental to the awakening of thoughts altogether adapted to the genius loci, if mistletoe were seen suspended in close proximity to the family pew! Nevertheless, Marriek, full of quaint fancy, finding very valuable lessons in the commonest and most unlikely things,

DOUGLAS YOUNG BREAKS HIS RIGHT ANKLE

Doug Young, the greatest hockey player Gleichén ever produced and who is captain of the Detroit Red Wings, broke his ankle while playing hockey in New York Sunday night. Young will be out of hockey the rest of the season. Following is the news dispatch of the accident: "Doug Young, star defenceman of the Detroit Red Wings, Stanley cup champion, suffered a broken ankle here last night in a National Hockey League match with New York Americans. Young suffered the injury early in the first period when he crashed into the boards after being snatched a hefty body check by an American, ace backliner of the Americans. Physicians at Polytechnic hospital reported the fracture would keep him out of hockey the remainder of the season, thus further weakening the injury ridden Detroiters who were the last night winners. Young was injured while skating to the net after having been injured in previous games by Montreal's Sid Howe, Chuck Brown and Marcy Barry."

J. F. W. A. ELECT ELECT OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

The last meeting of the year for the J.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. P. Warner with 18 members and visitors present. With the present in the chair the meeting was opened by all singing "Jingle Bells," and roll call was answered by "Tell Me."

It was decided to donate $5 to the Johnsons, bankrupted last year. Financial report was read for the year, the secretary and was found to be very satisfactory.

The annual election of officers took place which resulted as follows: A. Buckley, president; Mrs. J. C. Hume, vice-president; Mrs. R. O. O'Brien, secretary. All went back by acclamation. Mrs. H. Day was re-elected public secretary.

Directors for 1937 are as follows: Ed Goodwin, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. K. Reed, Mrs. MacArthur and Mrs. Umbré.

Sick committee: Mrs. A. Wilson and Mrs. A. McLeay.

Five ladies tied for the fruit cake given by the organization for good attendance and answering Roll Call, same being: Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. MacArthur, Mrs. Quinnell, Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. J. W. Hutcheon, so the four cakes were equally divided. Mr. O'Brien and Mrs. Wilson cut their share up for the ladies lunch. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Oliver for making the cake.

Mrs. S. Hall was appointed delegate to the convention for the coming year. Mrs. Quinnell was elected as alternate. The Xmas basket was much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Earl Ethridge won the raffish ten prize donated by Mrs. Warner, same being a fruit dish.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. MacArthur on January 7th.

sees in this ecclesiastically ostracized mistletoe a beautiful emblem of his dependence upon the care of Providence.

The mistletoe, associated with Christmas, is imported from England and the United States. There is, however, an indigenous diminutive species which grows on the spruce and the evergreen trees in this country, but it is not suitable for decoration.

Fortunately there is not any objection to the use of the great vermilion poinsettia for decoration. This beautiful and interesting plant belongs to a family, some other members of which, like the poinsettia have their upper leaves brightly colored, and whose true flowers are too inconspicuous to be readily seen, as is the case with the snow-on-the-mountain and yellow euphorbia, whose upper leaves are white and yellow respectively.

Thus this all too short season of beautiful color will melt and is inevitable, but consoling when La Rochefoucauld's old maxim is remembered: "The end of a good thing is an evil; the end of an evil thing is a good thing."

GUNNER HOCKEY CLUB HAVE GOOD WORKOUTS

Since ice was made at the arena the Gunners have got in some real snip hockey practices. As there are enough players on hand it is possible to run two teams and they are able to get some real work outs. Never before has Gleichén had so many players trying out for positions on the team as the following lineup will show. In goal we have the veteran Al Wilson, who has fought many a battle. Another coming goal is Boggs, who may be seen doing his stuff anytime. For the defence are Ralph Marquardt, Bill Taylor, Tom Brown; and on the forward lines we find one intact from last year; Bob Brown the coach, with the two Lester Brothers, Eugene and Hal. Among other forwards are Campbell, Brown, last year in senior hockey with the Drummer Miners and for many years before that with the Gunners; Bert Gibson of Strathmore Red Wings in 1935, Clifford, Bill Marquardt, Pug Johnston, Art Arlison are other players contending for positions in the forward lines.

Watching the boys in action one cannot but help think Gleichén will have the strongest team for some years. After the boys have had a few games all will have an idea what they are capable of. Tonight the team is slated to play in Lethbridge.

It is very probable that the first game to be played here will be against a Calgary intermediate team, the players, who are slated to play here on Monday, December 14th.

On Friday of this week the usual Friday night hockey game has been substituted by the annual dance. It is anticipated that after this ice conditions permitting, Friday and Monday will be the hockey nights in Gleichén.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strang, Director "Crop Testing Plant."

"The 'White-Collar Farmer' is the producer's best money-maker. 'Scientific Agriculturn' is his technical and correct name."

Little known, seldom understood, rarely valued or rewarded at his true worth, nevertheless the "White-Collar Farmer" quiet persistent efforts enable tens of thousands of practical farmers to continue their operations—to stay on their farms.

Consider the new areas and countless farms that were opened up in the west by Marquis wheat, which have added hundreds of millions of dollars to the pockets of Canadian farmers.

Dr. Wm. Saunders, and his son, Sir Charles Saunders, of the Dominion Experimental Station at Ottawa, are responsible for Marquis.

Consider Reward and Gained which in turn, opened up vast areas in Northern Alberta and Saskatchewan. The Saunders family made the first crosses for these varieties and Dr. L. H. Newman, present Dominion Cerealist, made the selections and then the distribution to farmers.

Many other varieties of wheats, oats and barleys, breeds of livestock, varieties of flowers, fruits and shrubs are products of the plant breeders, and animal breeder, the floriculturist and horticulturist—all scientific agriculturists, all for the most part "White-Collar Farmers."

What a debt farmers and all of us owe to these quiet, modest, unassuming workers who so well serve agriculture.

Following factors have tended to raise prices: Large purchases of wheat by United Kingdom and Continent—Honor Great Britain and other countries intend stocking up with wheat—Broomhall increases his estimates world imports by 16 million—Draught in parts of U.S.A. winter wheat belt continues—World's dry crop estimates less than last year—South Africa's maize crop considerably less than last year.

These factors have tended to lower prices: Large wheat crop seeded under favorable conditions in India—Argentina harvesting starts with clear weather on increased acreage—Good threshing yields reported—Agriculture exports guaranteed minimum price to farmers on wheat and linseed—Greatly increased exports of vegetables from Cuba to U.S.A.

LADIES S. C. GROUP PLAN TO HAVE SOCIAL EVENING

The semi-monthly meeting of the Meadowbrook Ladies Social Credit Group was held on November 28th, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Claude Rouche. Twenty-five members and friends were in attendance.

The Roll Call was answered by a "Household Query." Current Events were given by the members and a very lengthy correspondence was dealt with.

A guessing contest sponsored by Mrs. O. E. Calkins, was greatly enjoyed, after which the meeting adjourned. A very dainty tea was then served by the hostess and her assistants.

On December 10th or 11th, a social evening will be held at Shamrock School, the hostess being Mrs. E. Holland and Miss Lucille Bell. The entertainment will be in charge of Mrs. Claude Rouche and Mrs. McKeever. Friends of the district are cordially invited to attend.

A TRUE STORY

Bill Farmer in Alberta for 13 years. He died in 1931. He left a widow and two children, $5,000 in life insurance, and a farm and stock which sold for another $5,000.

Mrs. Bill, acting on the best advice, lost $5,000 on the first mortgage in Calgary at six per cent. The other she invested in Alberta also, $3,000 in provincial bonds, $1,000 in municipal bonds and $1,000 in bonds of her school district, all yielding five per cent.

She settled down. Her capital of $10,000 was wisely invested, she thought. Her income, the rental on her money, was roughly $550 per year. She never thought of her "Sunny" Alberta letting her down.

But—now her Alberta has cut the interest on her provincial bonds in half, and threatens to cut the interest on her municipal and school bonds to three per cent.

Further it has reduced her mortgage by the amount of interest she has received for the past four years, and forced her to accept re-payment on the slashed principal. In one year, with no interest, in other words, 73 cents on the dollar for the balance of $5,800 at five per cent for 10 years!

Mrs. Bill and others "in the same boat" wonder why they should receive $135 per year, when their husbands worked to give them $550 before they died. Here are the figures: $5,000 first mortgage income 1931 $300, in 1936 nil; $3,000 Alberta bonds 1931 $150 in 1936 $75; $1,000 municipal bonds income 1931 $50, in 1936 $30; $1,000 school district bonds 1931 $50, in 1936 $30. Total $100 income in 1931 $650 and in 1936 $135.

These are cold facts. (Ask Mrs. Bill how cold they are!) Furthermore, Bill's family finds the bonds, because Alberta's credit has been shattered, worth about half of what they cost. Her mortgage is cut from $5,000 to $3,800 and then to $2,774 for ten years at five per cent. (In effect.)

Mrs. Bill is not unreasonably. But ability to pay and unwillingness to live up to written promises, are larger

Thou Shalt Not Love

— A NOVEL BY —
GEORGIA GRAIG

CHAPTER X—Continued

"I suppose it was inevitable, but—well, I get jealous. How could I help it? Yes, jealousy of every man you smiled at, forgetting that I was the one who told you to smile! I tried to tell myself that I hated you for your tantalizing indifference. I tried, right from the start, to think of you the worst—the very worst. I didn't realize until I kissed you this afternoon that I love you, that I have loved you from the beginning."

There was a roaring clamor in Starr's head, a strange throbbing like the beat of jungle tom-toms in her veins, like the sound of those weird drums of the desert, made of stretched goatskins, that one heard when approaching an oasis. Uncanny, eerie, but so strangely, deliciously filled with a strange delight.

Michael loved her! The Hassan of her own Arabian Nights story loved her!

She tried to realize it, and realization brought a gushing wave of feeling right from the inmost depths of her being, like nothing she had ever known before, or dreamed of. The first real thrill in her life, especially in this swift merry-go-round of crazy days and nights. Michael loved her! She did not realize at just what moment he found her hand. She only knew of a sudden that he was holding them, crushing them in a strong grip that hurt and thrilled at the same time. He was begging; his voice was humble.

"It's not too late, is it, Starr? Say it! I'll go away from here. I have enough money. I don't think I ever want to hear of the word again—except for what it will bring to you and me, if you'll say so—just what I already have. We'll go somewhere where no one has ever heard of that wretched 'Play-Girl.' We'll start all over again, in a home of our own where everything will be different. . . . That was an'—"

In his voice that pertained to Starr: "Say something!"

In the darkness her lips moved wordlessly. What could she say? Michael loved her!

That he brought him to this, Yes, deliberately. The tantalizing, inference of which he spoke had been as far from that as it was possible to be. It had been part of a carefully-thought-out, elaborate campaign for vengeance against him—and against Stephanie Dale. She had wanted to humble the proud Michael to her feet, and then she would have laughed at him! And tossed her head at the overbearing egotistic Stephanie Dale with all her Peter Stuyvesant ancestry! Sweet revenge!

In this moment of realization, revenge was a booming which completed its vicious parabola and landed squarely on Starr Ellison's own black head. Because she knew in this startling moment that she loved him, too, that a despairing love of him had been the reason for most of the blackest moments of the days since she had known him. That realization, overshadowed everything else, even the upheld acyde of the Grim Reaper which was always menacing her.

She loved him, and in all her for-so ready to forgive, to take all blame to himself. If only that were all that lay between them—if only a thing like that, with all it implied, were what was keeping them apart! If only she could have flung herself into his arms and cried:

"I made a mistake, Michael—Hassan! A terrible mistake. But I'm ready to make up for it—for anything—by giving you my whole future, by devoting it, myself, all the love of my full heart, to making you happy!"

How bitter those words: "If only—"

Another voice suddenly cut through the darkness. A form was materializing, outlined against the lighted open windows. Lance Marlowe this time. So close a proximity, indeed, Starr had never been so glad to see Lance since the first time she had met him. She held out her hands to him, laughing.

"It's nice to see I'm not forgotten, Lance! I'm dying to dance!"

Michael said swiftly, under his breath: "Don't go like this, Starr, without giving me an answer!"

"I can't tonight, Michael—honestly. Give me a few hours—say to-morrow night at Lance's party at the Sea Beach Casino." And then she fled from him.

As the lights from the ball room struck Starr's face when he led her to the open window, Lance said to her:

"You look as if you'd been seeing ghosts out there, Starr."

She murmured: "I have." And for once her painted lips were not smiling.

CHAPTER XI.

Starr was not certain she had been asleep at all when the small ivory telephone at her bedside whirled her to an awakening. Sleepily she picked it up. The voice calling out of the bright morning made her heart spin to a dizziness, then stop altogether. Michael's voice!

If he only knew that it was the remembered tones of the voice which had kept her awake until the sun was high!

It was a cheerful voice, and if he had ever had a rebuff Michael Faircrouse appeared to have forgotten it. There was an undercurrent of excitement even in his light tone and words.

"Starr?" He heard her sleepy murmur answer. "What! Not awake yet? Arise and shine, honey—I'm coming over!"

Starr was awake on the instant. She shivered in the lulling warmth of the room and the silk and lace of her luxurious bed.

"No, Michael! You can't! Didn't I tell you? I'll be seeing you at Lance's party—tonight."

She meant to hang up, but somehow she didn't. It was so wonderful to hear Michael's voice—just to hear it.

"Wait!" he was calling through the air. "Don't you dare hang up on me, woman! You hear me?"

"But, Hassan—I'm sleepy—"

"No 'buts'—get into some clothes, honey. . . . I know you said you'd give me any answer tonight, but I'm not going to wait. Been awake since the party thinking everything over! I've got to see you now! Get that! It's almost noon, anyway. . . . You should have been up long ago!"

He laughed. "As if you needed it! I'm coming over, child—and that's the whole answer. We're going to have lunch beneath the maharajah windows, or whatever you call 'em'—dates, and little black loaves, goat-milk if I can find any, and a jug of wine and a narghile—Make you feel at home! I've got to see my desert princess now—do you get that?"

Masterful Michael! Not the humble Michael of the night before, but an exultant Michael with an accepted-lover tone. . . . He was so sure! Starr's heart felt like a dull leaden weight as she hung up the phone. And why should he not feel assured? Her heart had said things to him last night that her lips had denied. . . . He knew—he knew. . . .

Panic struck her suddenly, as she got quickly out of bed. Michael was coming! He had refused to accept her denial. She must not see him. Not yet! Not yet! What was she to tell him? How could she let him know? Her brain was a dizzying maze as she tried to think it out, her slim white hands, in which even now showed in their fragility, pressing tightly against the hot head that refused to give her an answer.

Only one thing she knew. She must not see Michael until she had at least formulated some plan for what their future course of action would be. To her heart's content she would have said that she had denied. . . .

He knew—he knew. . . .

It seemed almost unbelievable! That a man like this could exist in the world. Michael—dear Michael—

CRAWLED UPSTAIRS ON ALL FOURS

Owing to Rheumatism in Her Knees

It was not a very dignified way of going upstairs, but she had rheumatism in her knees, and it was the best she could do, at the time. Since then, she has been taking Kruschen Salts, and now feels much better.

"I had very painful gout in my big toe and could only get upstairs on all fours owing to rheumatism in my knees. It is over three years ago since I commenced taking Kruschen Salts. I must say on damp days I still have a little gout, but my knees are quite better. I am over 60 years of age, have a complexion like a girl's, and feel very fit. I am fully repaid for taking a half teaspoonful of Salts each morning in a cup of hot water."

(Mrs.) A.W.

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently caused by deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints. The numerous salts in Kruschen assist in stimulating your liver and kidneys to healthy, regular action, and help them to get rid of the excess acid which is the cause of so much suffering.

A handsome engraved photograph of H.M. King Edward VIII is waiting for you! Your druggist's is apiece every time you buy a bottle of Kruschen Salts. Supply limited—get yours now.

See him, too, might take from her all her will power to deny the love that was a consuming flame. There was only one answer. Michael was coming, was even then on his way. She must get out, away from the Egyptian-looking penthouse before he got there.

Must Be Taught Courage

Fear Plays Large Part in Life Of Some Children

Few adults realize what a large part played by fear in the life of a child. Some there are who can recall their early days and nights when fear was a very real and terrible sensation and these will look with kindly tolerance upon the child's unreasonable fearings of the darkness, fear of punishment, fear of failure in physical and mental contests, all influence the lives of many children, crippling and handicapping in the race of life.

Parents and teachers should above all things seek to avoid awakening this fear in the child. If the baby cries because he is afraid of the dark, by all means let him have a light. The trouble lies farther back in the child's life, and only a reasonable tolerance can correct it. If later he has done wrong, he must be corrected, but not made to fear his punishment, but to accept it as his right. If a child, as a pupil he hesitates to enter mental contests, he should be urged to do so, not because of the reward he may win, but because of the good the effort will do him.

Nothing is so beautiful as a fearless child. He will tell the truth where the timid child will lie to escape punishment. He will escape physical dangers because of his lack of fear and will use judgment and common sense in regard to risks, where the fearful child will fall victim to his own lack of initiative. Fear weakens the body and fuddles the mind. Teach the child courage.

A Notable Compliment

George Robertson Of Ottawa Selected As Judge Of New York Poultry Show

A notable compliment has been paid to Canada by a United States organization. The North Eastern Poultry Producers' Company requested the services of George Robertson of Ottawa, Assistant Dominion Poultry Husbandman, Central Experimental Farm, Dominion Department of Agriculture, to act as judge to select what is known as the hen of the year at their poultry show which was held in New York City from November 10 to 14, 1936. This show is one of the leading annual exhibitions of poultry in the United States and the request for a Canadian judge was regarded one of the highest possible compliments in the realm of poultry judging.

When the invitation came to act as judge at New York, Mr. Robertson replied that he was booked to act at the same time at the Ottawa Winter Fair, where for thirty years in the succession he had acted as judge. However, the promoters of the New York show wired that the matter was one of tremendous importance to the American Poultry Association and to the poultry industry as a whole that when at the convention of the American Poultry Judges' Association, held at Topeka, Kansas, in September, 1936, he was elected president of the association. This is the first time since 1873 when the association was organized that a Canadian has been elected president. Mr. Robertson was further honoured by being elected to the very responsible position of chair of the Standards Revision Committee of the American Poultry Association. For several years he has been a judge at the leading poultry shows throughout Canada and the United States.

It was only recently that another high honour was paid Mr. Robertson when at the convention of the American Poultry Judges' Association, held at Topeka, Kansas, in September, 1936, he was elected president of the association. This is the first time since 1873 when the association was organized that a Canadian has been elected president.

IN MEMORIAM

Treasured memories of our dear father, William Harrison, who died
Dec. 1, 1935.

We think of you dear father
With love that's deep and true,
No one knows the silent heartache
That makes us long for you.

Ever remembered by his children, Frank, Harry and Kathleen and his loving wife, Mrs. Florence Harrison.

PLANTE-BENNETT

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Victor's Roman Catholic Church, when Winnifred (Freda) youngest daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. J. E. Bennett of Calgary, was united in marriage to Mr. John E. Plante, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Plante of Gleichen, with Rev. Father Hyatt officiating. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Plante in the presence of immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs.

John Plante left for Calgary on their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Plante will reside north of Gleichen.

Honoring Miss Ralphene Hayes on her 17th birthday, a surprise party convened by her sister, Miss Verana Hayes was held at their home, with some twenty-five young people from town and district present. The guest of honor was presented with a camera on behalf of those present. Prize winners for the evening were Miss Marie Michael and Mr. Tom Brown. The evening was spent in dancing, the music being supplied by Mrs. Tote Kilcup and Mrs. Stewart Hayes. A very delicious luncheon was served by the hostess and her assistants.

Honoring Miss Marie Lumsden, who is leaving this week for Didsbury to make her future home, the Gleichen Girls Soft Ball team, of which she has always been a member, held a surprise party at her home, where a bout twenty of the young people gathered. The captain of the team, Miss Maxine Alliot, presented the guest of honor with a manicure set on behalf of the team and expressed the keen regret of the team at losing her. The evening was spent in playing games and was followed by dancing. At midnight a buffet luncheon was served by those in charge.

Men are busy digging trenches for water pipes to be laid to McConnell's new garage. Owing to the frozen nature of the ground they have made slow progress.

Saturday was the coldest night here so far this year—22 below. Old timers thought that temperature just right.

The many friends of Mrs. W. Boos will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from her recent illness in a Calgary hospital.

K. Roy McLean, Sight Specialist,

ember 15th, at Dr. Farquharson's office.

Rev. Father Hyatt accompanied by Mr. John Desjardine motored to Lethbridge and points south, spending the American Thanksgiving in Sweet Grass, Montana.

The annual hockey dance will take place Friday night. It is anticipated that there will be a good crowd on hand since the hockey boys always entertain royally.

Miss Margaret Dufosse was guest of honor at a surprise party held in her home on her 15th birthday at the home of Miss Irene Young. Over fifteen young people of the town were present and the hostess presented the honored guest with a pink and blue wool blanket on behalf of those present. The entire evening was spent in playing games and dancing.
A very delicious lunch was served at midnight by the hostess and her assistants.

The Indian hockey team is sponsoring a Battle Royal—wrestling, Australian rules to govern—at the Crowfoot Hall, a half mile south of Gleichen, on Friday December 17, at 8.30 p.m. Six Indians and white men will be loaned into the ring and sold to get busy. The first two out will go eight five-minute rounds, or one fall; the next two out will go eight eight-minute rounds with best out of two falls. The last two "rangers" will go best two out of three falls, no time limit. Following are the boys who will risk being scalped: Don Ferguson,
Bob Kitchen, Bob Allen, Dave Jacobs, Joe McCrea and Oscar Mossfeldt. A dance will follow the wrestling bill.

The annual Xmas. Bazaar and sale of home-cooking, sponsored by the W.
A. of the United Church was a most successful event, the sum of around $66.00 being realized. The fish pond was an added attraction. A number of the W. A. members had change of the tea arrangements. The display of fancy work was remarkable and sold very readily. The bazaar was held in the church, which was very artistically decorated in keeping with the Xmas. season; this was accomplished through the kindness of Mrs. J.
Spithard, and others. A special W.
A. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Robinson, on Thursday, December 10th, for the purpose of clearing up the business of the sale.

What Life Insurance Means to the Women and Children of Canada

TO thousands of Canadian families, Life Insurance means financial security against the uncertainties of the future.

To each family deprived of its breadwinner, Life Insurance means food, clothing, shelter and other necessities of life.

It means ready cash to meet pressing obligations during the difficult re-adjustment period.

It means money to pay the rent or meet mortgage payments.

It means funds for the education of children until they are old enough to support themselves.

It means rearing your family in self-respect, free from the humiliation of private charity or public relief.

It means contented retirement for the business woman when she is no longer able to work.

Every working day, Life Insurance disburses $500,000 to Canadian homes. Every day, it helps to keep homes together and families united.

No wonder that Canadian women appreciate the value of Life Insurance, and are grateful to their loved ones whose far-sighted thrift has made possible such vital financial security for themselves and their children.
